

My Metaphor Mongo Bongo Collection

By: Riley Cheung

MacDonald's is a leaking water fountain,
and I know the workers are eating french fries in the back.

Mr. B. Duck is a flower in the sun.

My brother is melting ice cream
dripping his stuff all over the house.
My brother is a volcano blowing up,
or, when he gets crazy, he becomes Sonic running with a gun.
My brother is a light bulb in the sky.

My teacher is a pig with wings
because he flies on his puffy chair.
My teacher is a lego brick in the sky
because he's hard compared to clouds.
My teacher is a Pikachu throwing lightning
When he's mad.
My teacher is sunshine eating pizza,
Two of my favourite things.

Snowboarding is writing a poem at B.A.S.A.,
I learn to make lines on the page.

My homework is like a drawing table.
My homework is a glove for playing catch with ideas.

My dog is a superhero at the speed of light,
My dog is a lion sleeping under moon,
My dog is a bed,
My dog is a pillow,
My dog is a tyrannosaurus rex.

The playground is a video game of kid wars
where sonic lives and fights, and sleeps.

My plushies are my dreams,
soft and cute.
My room is a desert when I have no toys.
My room is a dream when I'm tired.
My room is a soft bubble of love
when my mom walks in.

My car is a zamboni when we drive over ice.
My car is slow like a snail.
My car is marshmallows
puffing down the street.

I am a metaphor maker supreme.
